

Inference: using the machine learning model to make predictions on unseen data in the wild

